15	Writing/Writing Process. Students use elements of the writing process (planning, drafting, revising, editing, and publishing) to compose text.	Each Quick60 book comes with its own home-school connection booklet. Skills that are not directly presented in the book are present in the home-school connection booklet. These can be explicitly taught before the booklet is taken home.	x	x	x	x	x
A	plan a first draft by selecting a genre appropriate for conveying the intended meaning to an audience and generating ideas through a range of strategies (eg.brainstorming, graphic organizers, logs, journals)		x	x	x	x	x
B	develop drafts by categorizing ideas and organizing them into paragraphs		x	x	x	x	x
C	revise drafts for coherence, organization, use of simple and compound sentences, and audience;		x	x	x	x	x
D	edit drafts for grammar, mechanics, and spelling using a teacher-developed rubric		x	x	x	x	x
E	revise final draft in response to feedback from peers and teacher and publish written work for a specific audience		x	x	x	x	x
23	Research/Research Plan. Students ask open-ended research questions and develop a plan for answering them.		x	x	x	x	x
A	generate research topics from personal interests or by brainstorming with others, narrow to one topic, and formulate open-ended questions about the major research topic		x	x	x	x	x
B	generate a research plan for gathering relevant information (e.g., surveys, interviews, encyclopedias) about the major research question		x	x	x	x	x
24	Research/Gathering Sources. Students determine, locate, and explore the full range of relevant sources addressing a research question and systematically record the information they gather.		x	x	x	x	x
A	follow the research plan to collect information from multiple sources of information,both oral and written, including: (i) student-initiated surveys, on-site inspections, and interviews; (ii) data from experts, reference texts, and online searches; and (iii) visual sources of information (e.g., maps, timelines, graphs) where appropriate;		x	x	x	x	x

B	use skimming and scanning techniques to identify data by looking at text features (e.g., bold print, captions, key words, italics)
C	take simple notes and sort evidence into provided categories or an organizer
D	identify the author, title, publisher, and publication year of sources
25	Research/Synthesizing Information. Students clarify research questions and evaluate and synthesize collected information. Students are expected to improve the focus of research as a result of consulting expert sources (e.g., reference librarians and local experts on the topic)
28	Research/Organizing and Presenting Ideas. Students organize and present their ideas and information according to the purpose of the research and their audience. Students are expected to draw conclusions through a brief written explanation and create a works-cited page from notes, including the author, title, publisher, and publication year for each source used.
	Reading/Comprehension Skills. Students use a flexible range of metacognitive reading skills in both assigned and independent reading to understand an author's message. Students will continue to apply earlier standards with greater depth in increasingly more complex texts as they become self-directed, critical readers.		x	x	x	x	x
